

Dynamic Facilitation & Wisdom Council

Emergent leadership & self-organizing change for organizations & communities

THE SEMINAR

Dynamic Facilitation skills have been helping individuals and organizations address big issues. Using these skills, one person can assure a group of people to think together creatively and collaboratively and achieve win/win results.

In this introductory seminar you will learn how to help people:

- achieve breakthroughs on difficult, emotional or “impossible” issues
- arrive at unanimous results and decisions
- empower people to new levels of capability
- build trust, respect, and the spirit of community in a group
- grow in personal creativity and capability

Dynamic Facilitation provides a transformational experience. Participants learn new skills, build new capabilities and often make fundamental life choices. The practice sessions and group demonstrations create the opportunity to address and solve real problems. Many previous participants have chosen to move forward as a group to practice the new discipline and to continue working on the issues they've worked on together in the seminar.

WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING...

“I found a way to facilitate for monumental change. It took me to a place I never knew existed and made me wonder why I had not already been there.”

Glenn Floyd, Champion International

“This is the next level of facilitation... the seminar teaches you to use your whole brain.”

Barry Lubart, IBM

“A mind-expanding experience of an alternative approach to group discussion and problem-solving.”

Carol Chetkovich, Professor at Harvard's Kennedy School of Government
